Foreword

Collection and compiling of data on all cemeteries of Clackamas county was ordered by Clackamas County Pomona Grange at its April meeting in 1953. The objective of this project is to revive and increase interest in restoration, maintenance and improvement.

Appointed to lead in this work: Shirley Buck of Milwaukie and Perry O. Yoder of Canby-Molalla. Assisting in the field work:

Redland Juvenile Grange		Ronald Latone
Mrs. Ortle Plimpton	Sam Wilson	Ed Bruns
Robert Mount	Mae E. Newell	O. M. Richey
Fred Wenzel	Tavia Shaw	William Cook
A. F. Fredrickson	Luke Duffy	Carl Joehnke
Mrs. Vern Lantz	Fred Bates	Roy Meyers
Mrs. Harold Horner	Mrs. Rex Gordon	Marion Tong
Mrs. Ed Boeckman	Mrs. Ollie Holten	Henry Suter
Clarence Eaton	William Marshall	Charles Steiner
Mrs. Henry Babler (d. '55)	Mrs. Ida Jubb	George Clarke
Williams Rivers	Perry Yoder (reported on over 20)
Mrs. Will Bell.....	and possibly others

All work has been on a voluntary unpaid basis and it is likely errors have been made in reporting, transcribing, or in other ways which will be at once apparent to those familiar with any given situation, more than was the person making the investigation. There may also be complete omissions.

Lists of persons buried are brief for two reasons: (a) the nature and purposes of this compilation do not warrant; (b) a complete list as of the mid-30's prepared by Daughters of the American Revolution is on file in the reference section of the Oregon City public library. It is an excellent coverage.

An additional worthy and interesting project would be a searching for a report upon isolated graves of which there are many. Some are forever lost but some almost lost could be recovered and permanent record made. At least two or three unknown emigrants rest by the side of the Old Oregon Trail in the Eagle Creek-Currinsville section. Near the Oregon City-Springwater road in the Upper Logan area is the resting place of an unknown. Near the Rock Creek Cemetery is the grave of a man hanged for murder. Near the Needy-Molalla road is the grave of a man who apparently died of small-pox and was hurriedly buried by frightened neighbors.

During construction of the Mt. Hood Loop highway there were unearthed the remains of a woman who had been buried in a coffin apparently made of a wagon box. Reburial was made by the side of the road and the site suitably marked. All efforts to learn the woman's name or to what wagon train she belonged have been fruitless.

Quite a number of years ago Edith Tozier Weathered, a journalist, and her brother, Albert Tozier, a printer, --both historians,--recognizing that clues to valuable history can often be found in old cemeteries, visited many such. Albert had partially set up in type of their findings when vandals entered his basement, scattered the type and burned his manuscript. The project was not taken up again.

On June 2, 1954, Winston Bradshaw, District Attorney, quoted the following regarding vandalism:

"Any person who wilfully destroys, mutilates, defaces, injures or removes any tomb, monument, gravestone or other structure in any cemetery, or any fence, railing, or other work for its protection or ornament of any cemetery lot within a cemetery, or who wilfully destroys, cuts, breaks or injures any tree, shrub or plant within the limits of a cemetery, shall be punished upon conviction by a fine of not less than $5 nor more than $500, and imprisonment in the county jail for a term not less than one nor more than 30 days. The offender shall also be liable in an action of trespass in the name of a cemetery association organized under authority of ORS 64.010 to pay all damages occasioned by his unlawful act. Such damages when recovered shall be applied to the reparation and restoration of the property destroyed or injured."

The question is often asked as to how headstones can be cleaned and the inscriptions made more legible. The Blaasing Granite Company of Portland has this to say:

"We recommend using Wyandotte Cleaner or common household Ajax with a good fiber brush and plain water. Do not use oily soaps or any petroleum products or any wire brushes or steel wool."

June 1955

Sanders

Is located in T 5 S R 2 E Sec. 9 (north of Molalla). It was first used in 1886 but is now discontinued. It contains 13 graves of which 3 are unmarked. Prominent persons buried here are:

Asa Sanders
Oscar Sturges
Silas Wright
Chris Zweifel

The condition of this cemetery is one of neglect.

Dibble (or Jackson)

Is located in T 5 S R 2 E Sec. 8, one mile north of Molalla. It was established about 1850 and contains about 23 graves, 6 of which are unmarked. Early settlers here buried:

Starkweathers
Dibbles
Henry Jackson
Austins

It appears to be completely abandoned as is evidenced by unrestricted growth of trees, brush and vines.

Zimmerman

Is located in T 4 S R 1 E Sec. 32 one mile north of Needy. It was begun in 1868 and is still used. There are about 31 graves of which 7 are unmarked. Early settlers buried here are:

David Zimmerman
Ben Wolfer
Ed Miller

All believed to have been members of the Aurora colony; also buried here is Cornelius Bair. This cemetery is in need of maintenance.

Klinger (also known as Latourette's Woods)

Is located in T 4 S R 1 E Sec. 24, 2 miles east of Macksburg. It contains about 13 graves, 7 of which are unmarked. Early settlers buried here:

John Smith
John Klinger & Wife
Mr. & Mrs. Kister

It is in good condition and a new fence around it has recently been built.

Foster's

Is located in T 2 S R 4 E on Foster Donation Land Claim. It was established in 1850 and may be used now only for members of the family. It contains 35 graves of which six are unmarked but none are unknown. Here are buried:

Phillip Foster, wife and several children
 Robert Devine and wife
 Richard Smiley, wife and children
 James Smith, wife and children
 J. E. Burnett, wife and children
 A. K. Burnett

It is reliably said that two little girls whose parents died on the plains and who were shepherded by other members of the wagon train died at the Foster ranch from over eating of peaches. They lie in a corner of the Foster plot. Their names were:

Mary Condit and Nancy Black

Phillip Foster, his wife and four children came from Maine via the Sandwich Islands, and arrived in Oregon in 1842. With him was his brother-in-law, Francis W. Pettygrove. In 1844 Foster located at Eagle Creek where he started a store. In 1846 he formed a partnership with Samuel K. Barlow and built the trail known as the Barlow road. He was the first treasurer of Oregon. He was appointed by Gov. Geo. L. Curry as captain of a company of men to guard the Barlow road during the Indian War. He died in 1884.

Zion

Lies 2 miles east of Canby and contains about 2,000 graves, of which only about 30 are unmarked and but few unknown. Land was donated in 1897 by Chris Wintermantel because, it is said, he did not wish to be buried in the Old Canby cemetery. The condition is good. Well known persons buried here are:

Wm. F. Koehler George Brown and wife
 George Koehler Gilbert Noe
 Jacob Mundorf & wife

Old Canby

Lies within the city limits of Canby. It is believed to contain about 1,000 graves, many of which can not now be located. Well known persons of the earlier days buried here:

John Knight
 Philander and Anna Lee
 George Wait
 John Harms
 William Mack

This cemetery is in good condition and a considerable amount of money and time are being expended to beautify and maintain it.

Pleasant View

Is located about 1/2 mile south of the Lower Logam store, which is at the intersection of the Springwater and Barton roads. This may have been called the Arthur cemetery in early days as some of the Arthur family were buried here about 1854. The land was donated by the Hutchins family in 1895. Buried here:

Arthurs	Gerbers
Shepards	McCubbins
Holcombs	Kirchems
Joe Browns	Mark Hatton
John Rowans	Bakers

There are 10-12 unmarked graves and 2 unknown. Unusual is the fact there is buried here an Indian known as Indian Jack and also as Jack Cutting. The legend is that when a small baby he was traded to the Cutting family for either a sack of flour or for a pony. He remained with the Cutting family all his life and was considered a good man.

There is in this cemetery a small mound of rocks gathered by school children in memory of those sailors who lost their lives in the explosion of the cruiser Maine in 1898. The project was directed by Robert Ginther, a widely known teacher of Clackamas county. Enlargement and re-dedication was a recommendation of Mrs. Henry (Mahala) Babler shortly before her death.

Viola

Is located in T 3 S R 3 E Sec. 24. It was established in 1850 and is still used. It contains about 100 graves with 10-15 unmarked and 2 unknown. Buried here:

John A. Randolph & wife	William Mattoon & wife	() Seth Austin
Louis Kirchem	Charles Miller
*Jos. B. Hayden	Asa Stone & wife	Caleb Tracy
Isaac Starmer 1816-1896	Joe Brown 1796-1868	J. H. Tracy
William H. Mattoon	Mathias Kirchem & wife	L. Tracy
Abel Mattoon	Sara Ann Bidwell	Joseph Bro
E. Newkirk

*Veteran of Civil War
 Builder of Fishers Mill
 Crossed plains in 1845

George

Is located in T 3 S R 5 E Sec. 20. This general area is known as the German Burn and was settled by Germans, some coming by way of Australia. On the farther side of Suter Creek buried on their own land are the Klinkers and Reimers who were Lutherans; adjoining are buried the Rathes who were Catholics. Next to the road in the main cemetery are Presbyterians and others. Prominent in their day; buried here are:

Johnson	Meinke	Held
Schmidt	Paulsen	Lins

This cemetery needs much attention.

Githens Family

Is located one-quarter mile south of Eagle Creek and a very short distance east of state highway No. 211. It is on the Childs Donation Land Claim. It apparently has never had any generally accepted name and it is here called "Githens" as identification only. Stones in the Githens lot show:

Mattie J.	Nov. 20, 1869	age 8
Geo. S.	Dec. 13, 1876	age 6
Jessie H.	Jan. 15, 1877	age 2
Joseph	June 13, 1889	age 22
George Sr.	June 19, 1897	age 69

Other stones show:

Mrs. Charles Linn & Infant
J. Childs	Mrs. Seivers

The condition of this cemetery indicates no one is longer interested in it.

Baptist

Is located in T 3 S R 1 E and is just north of the Bird cemetery and near the Stafford church. It was established in 1880 and is still used. It contains about 50 graves, none of which is unmarked. Well known early settlers buried here:

John P. Gage	Don Gage
Missouria Gage	Elisha A. Moses
	Mary A. Moses

The Gages donated the land for this cemetery and reserved space in the west end for their own family.

Maintenance is good.

Bird

Is also located in T 3 S R 1 E in the Stafford area. It was established in the early 80's and is still used. Contains about 200 graves.

Persons well known in their day buried in the Bird cemetery:

Robert Bird	1775-1855
Rachel Bird	1780-1859

T. L. Turner	Charles Thompson	William Sharp
Nancy Turner	Artemissa Thompson	Zobeda Sharp
Henry E. Hayes	Sarah L. Hayes	Harriet E. Hayes
John Kruse

Meridian

This plot lies in Washington county but close to the Clackamas county line. It is included in this compilation because it has been largely used for Clackamas county persons. The land was donated to the Meridian Reformed church in the 90's by George Papenburg who is said to rest here. Well known persons, most of whom came to the community in the 70's also buried here are:

Ernest A. Boeckman, Sr.	Simon Peters	Henry Diekman
Friederick Kollemeir	Meint Peters	Fred Elligsen
August Kollemeir	Henry Toedtemeir	Hibbo Iderhoff

St. James

Is located just off Highway 99E at the top of the New Era Hill. It contains about 300 graves and is still used. The condition is fair but maintenance is needed. Among the well-known persons buried here are:

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Bradtl	Karl Kelmhofer	James Gibsom
Martin Stauber	Paul Tauche	Anton Kalb
Michael Stauber	Rosco Markland	John Rief
Charles Schmidt	John Bauman

Zion

Is located a short distance east of Canby. It was established about 1897, the first plat being donated by Chris Wintermantel to the Evangelical church. In 1905 this cemetery was taken over by the City of Canby and is well maintained and much improved. It contains approximately 2000 graves of which only about 30 are unmarked.

Well known persons buried here:

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Mundorf	John F. Koehler	Chris Richter
Mr. and Mrs. George Brown	George Koehler	William Lucke
Chris Wintermantel	Gilbert Noe

Rock Creek

Is located in T 5 S R 1 E Sec. 5. It is 5 miles south of Barlow and 5 miles east of Hubbard. It was first used in 1852 and is still used. It contains about 325 graves of which 10-15 are unmarked and 2 are unknown. Prominent early day persons buried here are:

Bem Holmsley (1816-1908)	Hattie Taylor White	G. W. Palmer
Elizabeth Kizer (b. 1789)	John Schneider	George Purdue
Thos. & Eliza Donaldson	A. & Mary Brown	Samuel Taylor
C. O. Boynton	Phillip Mohr	Edwin Hilton
Warren Haskins	F. M. Sampson	Robt. Sconce
B. I. Garrett	Roops	Noes
Longs	Morelands	Elliotts
Cochrans	Nobletts	Rings

In the last 4-5 years a very thorough job has been done in improving and maintaining this cemetery by the Rock Creek Cemetery Association, Inc. A perpetual fund is being created, the interest on which will pay for the necessary labor. The late Warren Haskins contributed $600 to this fund.

A few years ago road work along the Old Oregon Trail disclosed the grave of a pioneer woman whose name was found to be Homsley. A Mr. Morrison, passenger agent for the Union Pacific Railroad at Cheyenne, interested himself in the discovery and through news stories in western papers learned that the husband of this woman was buried in the Rock Creek cemetery. He has made two special trips to this cemetery to learn more of the facts and on one occasion to present the Rock Creek church nearby with a valuable historical painting.

In early pioneer days relatives brought to the Rock Creek cemetery the body of a man who had been hanged in Salem for murder and sought a permit to bury. Application was rejected by the board of directors whereupon a neighbor whose land adjoined the cemetery gave permission to bury just outside the cemetery fence. The location of the grave was easily visible until about 1910 when the location of a new road made it advisable to move the remains just over another fence into a cultivated field. The exact location of the grave has now been lost.

Lutheran

Is located 2-1/2 miles NE of Canby. It was established in 1892 and is still used. It contains about 100 graves most of which are marked. There appear to be no unknown graves. A prominent person buried here,

Paul Sollis

Clackamas

Is located in T 2 S R 2 E Sec. 4, is 1 mile north of the town of Clackamas and adjoins 82nd Ave. It was started about 1850 and is still used. It contains about 1850 graves of which about 300 are unmarked and 20 are unknown. Condition is fair but several headstones need attention. This cemetery is noted for its rather large number of soldier dead. There are:

2 Indian Wars	1 Confederate
25 Civil War	2 Oregon National Guard
1 Spanish-American War	9 Women of Relief Corps
5 World War I

Well known persons buried here:

Rev. Hezekiah Johnson, 1799-1866
 Wm. L. Starkweather, member of Oregon Constitutional Convention
 Jos. R. Smith, Confederate Soldier
 Capps family, 12
 Cliff family, 6
 John A. Talbert, ex-member Oregon legislature
 P. T. Davis, G. A. R.
 James Root, Englishman and G. A. R.
 William Lewthwaite, Englishman and paper maker
 William Matlock, ex county judge
 W. N. Matlock, cavalryman Indian War
 J. C. Paddock, G. A. R.
 Uriah Daniels, Indian War
 John Landers, G. A. R.
 Alex Thompson, G. A. R. and ex county school superintendent
 W. L. Chapman, first collector of Alaska customs
 W. L. & E. C. Chapman, sons of W. L. Sr.
 A. Mather, merchant and for many years RR & Express agent, Clackamas
 William Phillips & wife, pioneers of 1842
 George W. Thiessen, justice of the peace, Milwaukie district

Forrester

Is located in T 2 S R 4 E Sec. 29. It was established in 1860 and is still used. There are about 162 graves of which 12 are unmarked and 3 are unknown. Well known persons buried here are:

Forresters	Glover
Judds	Suter
Hoffmeisters	Stingley
Douglas	Bailey
Huggins

This cemetery needs a thorough clearing of trees and brush, better fence and better roadway.

Wyland

Is located in T 5 S R 1 E Sec. 4. It contains five or six graves of relatives of Daniel Wyland. It appears to be on private property. It is badly overgrown with trees, shrubbery and vines and has had no care for many years. It seems to have been started in the early 1870's.

Bear Creek

(also known as Moshberger's)

Is located in T 5 S R 1 E Sec. 2. It is 1 mile north of Rural Dell school. It was started in 1861 and is still used. There are about 49 graves of which 5 are unmarked. Well known persons buried here are:

Fred Moshberger
Johan Spahn
Frederick Eyman

Maintenance is needed.

Barlow

Is located in T 4 S R 1 E Sec. 6 and is about one mile north of the town of Barlow. It was established in 1856 and is still in use. It contains about 22 marked graves. The most widely known of the persons buried here is Samuel K. Barlow, who, with Phillip Foster, built the Barlow road over the Cascade Range via Mt. Hood. Others are:

James Barlow, Samuel's brother
William White

Clarkes

Is located in T 4 S R 3 E Sec. 29 one mile from Clarkes Corners. It was started about 1870 and is still used. It contains about 270 graves of which 20 are unmarked and probably unknown.

Early settlers buried here:

Ringos	Gards	Mayfields	Shockleys--
Nichols	Elmers	Stricklands	Marshalls
	Hoffstetters	Schiwe

Most of these lived in the vicinity prior to 1880.
Maintenance is good.

St. Peter's Congregational
(also known as Ten O'Clock)

Was established in 1859 and is still used. It contains about 104 graves of which 12 are unmarked and 5 are unknown. It is located SE of Beavercreek on the Beavercreek-Clarkes road.

Milwaukie

Is located on the west side of the old road from Milwaukie to Sellwood. The first grave in it was opened for the wife of William Meek. She died Dec. 9, 1850. It is probable the second grave was that of Captain Frederick Morse who had brought his ship to Milwaukie for cargo. He was killed by the explosion of a cannon being fired in connection with celebrating the launching of the river boat Lot Whitcomb. Capt. Morse had come ashore to participate. Other very early pioneers buried here:

Elizabeth died in 1851, wife of Henderson Lewelling
 Seth Lewellyn, wife Clarissa and three children
 Alfred Lewellyn, wife and two children
 George and Sarah Wills
 Jacob and Lorena Wills
 Hector Campbell, Milwaukie's first school teacher
 Edward Ross, one of the first Milwaukie postmasters
 Henry Roberts, joint founder Roberts' store, Portland

This cemetery is still used and contains the graves of about 500 adults and 400 children. The condition is fair.

Lot Whitcomb on his donation land claim of 1847 set aside two tracts for burial purposes. One was at the NE corner of 32nd and Wister streets. Still remains there the grave of a mother and baby with a stone marked "Willie". Their identity seems to be forever lost.

The other plat was north of Washington street between 28th and a small creek. Whitcomb was buried there. After a number of years his remains were transferred to Lone Fir cemetery, Portland. It is believed all bodies buried here have been removed. Also buried here was Rev. John Sellwood, who is said to have established the townsite of Sellwood. On his arrival in Milwaukie in the early 50's he exhibited scars on his head which he said were caused by Indians who scalped him and left him for dead, but friends rescued and revived him.

Another cemetery was started on the Owen Kellogg DLC one-quarter mile east of what is now known as the Oatfield road and View Acres. Buried here were:

Dr. John Thiessing and wife, Amanda, & four children
 Hathaway Kellogg
 Mrs. Charles Bunnell
 Others whose names are now unknown.

This plot was closed about 1897 and all bodies, or the most of them, removed. Nothing remains to mark the area.

A private burial plot was set aside by the Risley family in an early day on the west side of the River road near its intersection with Oak Shore Lane. All bodies there were removed a few years ago to River View, Portland.

Straights

Is located in Parkplace on the Hiram Straight Donation Land Claim and is said to have been given for burial purposes in the 1840's. It lies at the east end of Depot Street. There are about 40-50 graves; numerous ones are unmarked and many are lost in the tangle of vegetation. Among those distinguishable are:

Hiram and Susan Straight
Jennie Bingham and family

Cemetery is in very poor condition, no-one apparently interested.

Lewthwaite

Is located on the Hiram Straight Donation Land Claim near the old school building at Parkplace. It was established at an early date by Captain W. H. Smith. It is thought to contain 14-15 graves but grazing stock have destroyed most of the identifications. It is known that Albert Rivers and some of the Charlie Smith family are buried here. Only two headstones are now in evidence:

Sarah L. (--) died Oct. 6 1878 age 5 weeks
William Rivers, born 1859 died Oct. 1883

Norwegian

Is located in T 4 S R 1 E Sec. 7, one mile south of Barlow on the Barlow-Monitor road. It was established about 1900 and is still used. There are about 78 graves of which 23 are unmarked. Prominent persons resting here are:

Henry Zeigler Louis Wrolsted
Ole Bolland Erickson

Condition of this cemetery is good.

Fellows

(also known as Highland)

Is located in T 4 S R 3 E NE 1/4 Sec. 3. It is seven miles SE of Beaver Creek on market road No. 36 and near the North Highland schoolhouse. It was established in 1860 and is still used. It contains about 150 graves of which 70 are unmarked. Well known early settlers buried here are:

Hiram Fellows Thomas Kirk James Stewart
John Fraser Al Harrington

Others of a later date:

Still Welsh
Jones Parish

There is also one unidentified G. A. R. grave. Hiram Fellows donated the land for this cemetery and the nearby school about 1848. Here rest four of his sons, the first two named being born in the 50's:

Orlando Joseph Daniel Eli

Much of the above information was furnished by Helstone Lay, who has resided nearby for 73 years.

Oswego Odd Fellows

Is located in T 2 S R 1 E Sec. 16 and is about two miles south of Oswego. It was established in 1881 and is still used. It contains about 1400 graves. Early settlers buried here:

Prosser Bullock Buckman Frank Whitten

Others prominent:

Carter

Davidson

Ford

A. R. Shipley, ex master Oregon State Grange

J. U. Campbell, justice of the Oregon Supreme Court.

Condition of this cemetery is good.

Oswego Catholic Cemetery

Is located about two miles south of Oswego and adjoins Oswego Odd Fellows. It appears to have been established in the 1850's and is still used. There are about 125-140 graves. Names appearing on headstones are:

William Armstrong	Annie Parker	Eitners
Conway, John & Anna	Hohenleitner	Koehler
O'Brien	Puylaert	Rauch
*Cornelius De Baur

*Drowned in 1897 while trying to rescue Peter Younker

Hazelwood

(also known as Cemetery Association)

Is located in T 2 S R 3 E Sec. 13, near Boring. It may have been first used about 1850. It is thought the plot contains about 25 graves but only two remain well marked. About 15 of the 25 are unknown. Among those known are:

Bailey	Rork	Cople	Carter
Anderson	Lake	Richey

This cemetery is in very poor condition.

Pendleton

Is located on private land a short distance southwest of Canby near Knight's bridge. Three graves are marked:

S. R. T. Pendleton 1851-1871
 G. Pendleton 1857-1901
 Phoeby Pendleton 1814-1882

Other graves, if any, are undistinguishable. There is apparently no maintenance.

Carus

Is located in T 3 S R 2 E Sec. 31 and is one-half mile south of Carus, on Kirk road. It was established in 1851 and is still used. It contains about 518 graves of which 311 are unmarked and 21 are unknown. Members of early day families buried here:

Charles F. Beatie Mays Grahams Jones
 J. R. Lewis Kirks Jaggars

Those of a later date:

R. B. Beatie, ex sheriff and county judge
 Frank Jaggar, ex county commissioner

This cemetery is said to need leveling and a caretaker.

Beavercreek

Is located in T 3 S R 2 E Sec. 36. It was started in 1888 and is still used. It has about 114 graves of which 20 are unmarked and 5 are unknown. Early settlers and others buried here:

W. F. Harris David Harris Edward Hughes
 Henry Hughes Jane Edwards Jacob Spangler
 *Mike London Thos. Spangler William Grisenthwaite
 Griff Jones *David Jones Mary Grisenthwaite
 C. E. Spence, ex master Oregon State Grange

*Civil War

World War I

World War II

Sandy Ridge

Is located in T 2 S R 4 E Sec. 22 two and one-half miles west of Sandy and two and one-half miles east of Eagle Creek. It was established in 1862 and is still used. It has about 126 graves of which 10 are unmarked and 10 unknown. Well known early settlers buried here are:

Wiley Douglas & wife Elizabeth Douglas Green
 Matthew Zogg D. S. Doyle, donator of tract
 John Apperson Suckows
 Winches Jack Duncan John Strause

Others are:

A. W. Douglas & wife Vosbergs
 Demings Herman Brunner & family

This cemetery is kept in good condition by Sandy Ridge Women's Club.

Canemah

Is located on the Absalom Hedges Donation Land Claim on the bluff back of Canemah. It overlooks Highway 99E and the Willamette river. It has been used since the early 1830's and is still used occasionally. The plat shows 150 lots 15.5 ft. by 26 ft. Thirty lots in the SE corner were reserved for a Potter's field. There are about 130 headstones. Many graves are not marked and the identity and location of many are lost.

The first directors were in 1864, Isaac F. Beals, J. P. Blanchard and George Jerome. These men and many members of their families rest here. The second wife of Samuel K. Barlow is buried here. She crossed the plains driving an ox team and taking care of three children. Her name was Elizabeth Shepherd. Her first husband had died in the East. One of her three children, a son, was drowned in the Willamette the first year she was here. A few of the other persons well known in early days resting here are:

W. W. Waterpaugh, G. A. R.	Thomas R. Fields
Joseph Hedges	Marshell Lazelle
Jos. H. Lindsay	Jas. K. Bingman
*Sebastian Miller	S. D. Moore
	W. W. Quinn

On a foggy morning, Feb. 8, 1898, Mr. Shannon, Mr. Freeman and three of his sons were crossing the Willamette river to their work in the pulp mills when their boat was carried over the falls. One son escaped and the body of one son was found. On a stone in this cemetery is this inscription:

"Faith - Hope - Charity. George Freeman died Feb. 8, 1898, aged 49 yrs, G. W. Freeman, died Feb. 8 1898, aged 27 yrs, Jim Freeman, died Feb. 8, 1898, aged 19 yrs. All three lost over the Willamette Falls."

*Sebastian Miller was one of the best loved steamboat men of his day. He was the first man to operate a steamboat on the Snake River. His favorite boat was the Beaver built in 1873. During his funeral (1901) every boat on the river lined up in front of his home. As Miller's body was being carried from his residence the boats all saluted in a long mournful whistle.

This cemetery is very much in need of maintenance and plans for permanent upkeep.

Russellville

Is located in T 6 S R 2 E Sec. 3. It is five miles south of Molalla on the Sawtell road. It was established about 1880 and is still used. It contains about 75 graves of which 31 are unmarked. Buried here are:

*Mr. Wilhoit & wife Dibbles Trullingers

Also an unusual number of soldiers of various wars have their last encampment here. The site is good but a better road to it and better maintenance are much needed.
